

JEAN-LOUIS RICHARD

“Be better than yourself”

You are your major asset. Being asked the right questions will stretch your strengths. You will discover how much you can influence your environment. You will soon mobilize the very best of your teams and yourself to achieve your goals.

Experience

Jean-Louis co-founded the consultancy firm KPMG Peat Marwick, a company he led right up to the sale in 1998 to Computer Sciences (CSC).

Over 20 years, Peat Marwick became one of the leading professional service firms in France. Jean-Louis' skill in recruiting and growing top partners helped KPMG's clients to transform their operations.

He has been a successful executive coach since 2001, co-founding Praesta France in 2005.

He has built up in-depth experience across a wide range of companies, coaching senior leaders and helping “high potentials” prepare for No1 positions. His conviction is that every leader has an unlimited potential.

Jean-Louis is married with two children.

He coaches in Paris and Toulouse.

Professional Expertise

Since 2001, Jean-Louis has coached one-to-one top level businessmen and women, along with high potential managers in the French private sector.

He published “Armée de nains ou armée de géants?” and « Serez-vous un directeur financier hors normes ? »
